Aviator Negotiates Beautiful Air Journey After Making Minor Changes in Craft Which Sails Around Spanish Bight—Spectacular Spiral Dip and Other Sensational Features Surprise Spectators.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Glenn Curtiss flew his hydro-aeroplane this afternoon in the most beautiful flight yet made with the airship. Shortly after 2 o'clock he finished minor alterations on the hydroplanes and the big ship was dragged to the water. Curtiss mounted the seat and, Elyson, at the wheel, spun the propeller and the ship glided from shore. Curtiss threw the throttle wide open and the machine gathered headway for about fifty feet. Suddenly Curtiss deflected his controls and gracefully, without a skip or a sag sideways, the ship rose from the surface of the water and sailed from a height of about twenty feet out toward the inner harbor in the most beautiful and even start he has yet made.

SPRINGS SURPRISES. Circling around the mouth of Spanish Bight, Curtiss edged toward the harbor, where at the proper angle he executed some things that no man ever saw him deliberately try. He executed a spiral dip which has made some half a dozen men younger in aviation famous. Many who have watched Curtiss fly, two astonished at his feat, for he never does any fancy flying, but he seemed on his mettle and went round the circles shortly as if he was turning a pylon on an aviation field.

The feat was all the more remarkable from the fact that he for the first time attempted to maneuver in the air with the hydroplanes attached to the ship and the ship worked perfectly, minutely responding to her rudder and controls. Circling toward the mouth of the inlet the aviator made a long reach directly toward the revenue cutter Bear and as he passed around behind the cutter at a height of about 100 feet the Bear blew her whistle, tooted her siren, and gave other manifestations of welcome.

The Iris joined the whistling and in a moment the ships in the harbor were all blowing, while men stood on the decks and yelled as Curtiss made a wide turn along the waterfront and headed for the harbor again. Coming along North Island Curtiss descended to within about forty feet of the water and began to turn the

FIGHT PROMISED ON BIG STICK'S BANK "RIPPER" BILL NEXT WEEK.

Governor Johnson's Plan to Eliminate Appointees of Gillett Will Meet Opposition, Perhaps Futile But None the Less Real—Langdon Reported Slated for Head of "Reorganized" Banking Department.

BY W. R. WILLIAMS.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "big stick" in the Assembly during the coming week, when an attempt will be made to drive through Flint's bill reorganizing the banking department and combining the building and loan department with it. This is the Governor's law to get Alden Anderson, Charles F. Curry and J. P. Transue out of the office to which they were reappointed by Gov. Gillett just before he retired. Yesterday the Governor told the Los Angeles Assemblymen that the man he "has selected" would surprise all and remove the objections of the building and loan department. Today the opposition to the Governor's "ripper" or the local option bill will be a black mark in the Governor's book for letting the subject of his talk yesterday leak out.

FIGHTS SCHEDULED. That there will be a struggle over the bank "ripper" bill is apparent and it is also apparent that there is going to be more opposition to the local option bill than was expected. Many members object to being opposed even by the Governor and there are signs of rebellion. It seems improbable that the opposition to the Governor's "ripper" or the local option bill will be successful although it will at least have the merit of being real. In both, however, there is danger of disintegration of the "progressive" majority unless the fight is handled diplomatically.

The liquor situation was changed yesterday when Senator Sanford introduced a law intended to regulate the business over the entire State without regard to conflicting municipal rights. It forbids issuing licenses to any but American citizens and the total number of licenses must not exceed one to each 500 of population; saloons must close between 1 a.m. and 6 a.m., with no provision for Sunday; no one under eighteen years of age may be admitted to a saloon or buy liquor, and licenses are made forfeitable on a second conviction of violating the law.

Under this measure Los Angeles would have 620 saloons, regardless of some restrictions. Instead of the 297 it now has. In a statement Sanford says the "aim of this bill is to impose a general regulation throughout the State so that all may fare alike." He also says prohibition and local option are futile as measures for sobriety or morality. The bill is regarded dubiously by those who have seen it.

ANOTHER HURD BILL. Local option was reported to the Assembly today and will be on the floor for second reading Monday. Chairman Cronin says it has been amended so that it will not interfere with the San Francisco Man Dies Attempt to Gain Back His Losses.

Bullets Fly Over Tables Proprietor Defends His Bank Roll.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Battered by his losses in gambling, Postier, a contracting painter, held up the bank at the Sacramento Club today and was shot dead by the revolver duel which followed. El Kripp, proprietor of the resort, 14-year-old son witnessing his father's death. The lad had rushed in to prevent bloodshed when he saw Kripp a gun from a policeman and run to the room where Postier was hiding the attaches of the place at bay with backing from the room with $1000 coin, taken from the dealer in charge. Kripp is in jail charged with murder. He told the detectives that the last of the interchanges was fired by Postier into his own breast when he found himself trapped and severely wounded. The result of the autopsy held this evening tends to confirm this claim, the police finding two wounds over the heart, the shot which severed the heart, having been fired from a gun held to Postier's body, burning the vest. The bullet which killed the man was found in the body, but the police, the cartridge in the police gun and used by Postier were identical in caliber and shape.

DESPERATE OVER LOSSES. Postier had been losing steadily the gambling club for several months. Rendered desperate by a mortgage placed on his place of business yesterday, he determined to force the gambling houses to return some of the money he had lost to them. After visiting the Franchini Club finding no one there, he drove with son, Paul, to the Sacramento Club. Lying on the floor outside, Postier entered the place and drawing his revolver, demanded $1000 of E. S. Goodrich, who was acting as treasurer of the club. While Goodrich was counting out the money, Kripp and two other occupants of the room made a dash for the escape.

A shot from Postier's revolver brought two of the men back into the room, but Kripp continued the ground. Rushing up, Police Sergeant Donovan, Kripp asked for his gun, deciding that his place was being held. Donovan gave him his police revolver and then went to telephone for help. Seeing Kripp with the gun, Postier entered the elevator with him and gaining the room where his father was holding five men at bay, showed a warning to the men.

MURDER CHARGE MADE. A squad of police then blockaded the place, and Kripp with the five attack of the place, was placed under arrest. Kripp was held in the office of the captain of detectives for several hours before he was charged. After Detective Captain Wall had sworn to complaint charging Kripp with murder, the attaches of the place arrested him and were detained as witnesses. Postier was turned over to his uncle. According to the story told by the police, his mother and him visited police headquarters several times in an effort to have the gambling clubs closed, but on each visit he was told that nothing could be done about the matter.

CONTEMPT CHARGES STAND. Supreme Court Refuses to Hear Boycott Case of the Bucks Stock Company.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The boycott case of the Bucks Stock and Loan Company of St. Louis against an American Federation of Laboring men came to a dramatic close in the Supreme Court of the United States which decided it was a question would not hear. The court proceeded to hear argument on the "contempt" case, which arose out of the "boycott" case. The court arrived at the conclusion that the "boycott" case was moot, one leaving nothing substantial to be decided, when attorneys on both sides stated that an agreement had been entered into between the company and the federation for the settlement of their disputes.

Chief Justice White announced the court considered that this left nothing but the matter of costs to be determined. It was said the case could not be considered simply to determine who should pay the costs. The refusal of the courts to proceed further with the "boycott" case will not affect the contempt charges against Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison. They were in court when the case was

PUBLIC WITH MRS. SCHENCK.

Witness Against Alleged Poisoner Dismissed by Employers; Jurymen Also.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] WHEELING (W. Va.) Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Eleanor Zwickler, the detective nurse who figured in the Schenck trial, was today dismissed from her position in the Joseph Horne department store as a result of her participation in the trial. Leading patrons of the store deeply resented her attitude towards Mrs. Schenck and the proprietors found it expedient to dispense with her services. Juror Haymann, who stood out for conviction of Mrs. Schenck, was also dismissed by his employer today.

"We the Jury find Dr. W. P. Burke, the defendant, guilty as charged."

The convicted doctor started up convulsively and then turned away and leaned upon his wife without murmuring a word. After the verdict was reported by the clerk, Judge Seawell ordered Dr. Burke into custody and continued the trial for pronouncing sentence until Monday morning, when it is probable the attorneys for the defense will make a motion for a new trial.

Judge Seawell concluded his instructions and ordered the jurymen into deliberation at 8:45 and at 9:15 o'clock they sent word to the court that they wished to see the dynamite and fuse. The explosive introduced by Dist. Atty. Lea as an exhibit was produced, and after examining it for fifteen minutes the jurymen returned to their chamber.

At 11 o'clock the foreman sent word to the court that the jury had agreed upon a verdict and a call was sent out for the judge and attorneys. At 11:15 o'clock all of the attorneys and principals were seated, and the jury was called out and the verdict rendered.

The technical charge on which the trial was based was "exploding dynamite in a residence inhabited by a human being."

GUESTS OF TWO CHICAGO HOTELS FLEE FROM FIRE, LIGHTLY CLAD.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two guests of the big hotels of the loop—the Great Northern and the Majestic—scrambled down fire escapes, crowded into elevators and down stairs to escape a fire that originated in St. Hubert's grill, on the eighteenth floor of the Majestic Hotel building at 1:30 o'clock this morning.

The restaurant was crowded with after-theater diners when an explosion back in the kitchen shook the structure. A moment later there was a burst of flames that shot across the ceiling into the room. Hoping to extinguish the fire and prevent the panic incident to the arrival of the fire engines, employees of the hotel and restaurant fought the flames. Although hand grenades and every available appliance was used, the fire got beyond the control of the volunteer fire force.

Within a few minutes after the first explosion the flames had burst through the roof and licked at the outer walls of the building. By this time the excitement had been communicated to the guests of the hotels. Clerks and bell boys ran from room to room awakening the guests and endeavoring to calm the frightened women.

Next there began an exodus of half-clad men, women and children to the streets. The elevators, crowded with firemen and hotel employees who sought to prevent a further spread of the flames, were of little use to the fleeing guests.

Some women with babies ran down a dozen flights of stairs and stumbled half-fainting into the street. In both hotels the proprietors stuck to their posts as long as there was any hope of assisting the fleeing men and women.

Dr. Robert Reber, who occupied the eighth floor of the Majestic, was the first to escape. He was seen running down the stairs, carrying a bundle of his belongings.

Pence Officers Hurl Assassin Across Oklahoma Line to Escape Lynching for Cold-Blooded Killing.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] GUYTON (Okla.) Jan. 27.—Advice received here today from Canadian, Tex., state that H. T. Fifer, a rancher of Hanford county, was placed in all there today to prevent a mob from lynching him for having killed Sheriff R. E. Martin.

The killing occurred last night, when Martin accompanied the United States Marshal from Amarillo to arrest Fifer for disobedience of a Federal court order. According to the information brought here, Fifer hid behind his barn when he saw the officers coming. As they drove into his yard he opened fire with a shotgun, and Martin received a charge in the stomach, dying in a few minutes.

Fifer fled to a Norwegian settlement, where he remained all night. This morning he went to Hanford, the county seat, was arrested and then hurried to jail at Canadian to prevent violence at the hands of angry citizens.

Next morning Fifer was taken to the jail at Canadian, where he was held in a cell. He was seen by a reporter who was visiting the jail at Canadian.

ANFORD'S BILL KICKS UP DUST. Late Thrown Into Turmoil During Discussion.

Useful Money Pay for Labor Runs Onto Rock.

Sanitation Charges Attempt to Smother Measures.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The powerful progress of the Senate toward an adjournment of the week was thrown into turmoil yesterday by the introduction of a bill to require all labor to be paid in "lawful money" instead of non-convertible paper was reached on the floor. It was being discussed without a vote until Senator Roseberry questioned its constitutionality and Senator Boynton proposed an amendment making it applicable to "firms and corporations."

But then Senator Shasta began to speak. He said that the measure was a constitutional violation and that it was an attempt to smother the measure by a constitutional violation. He said that the measure was an attempt to smother the measure by a constitutional violation. He said that the measure was an attempt to smother the measure by a constitutional violation.

MONEY IN TIMES "LINERS." [The Times makes prompt public use of this legal (or illegal) threat, for it is a fine advertisement of the value of our Liner pages. Possibly it is worth the $230 demanded, which, however, is refused, Lawyer Chesebro to the contrary notwithstanding.]

Manager, Advertising Department,
Los Angeles Times, City.
On last Saturday, January 21st, Mr. F. C. Butler, of this City, tendered to The Times copy of an Ad. which he desired to run in your paper and which he paid in advance the price of twenty cents. The Ad. was accepted, as well as the money which was received for same. For some unknown reason your people rejected the Ad. and did not publish it.

Mr. Butler feels that he has been directly damaged by reason of the rejection on your part of the Ad. and your failure to publish the same. He states that the business that is brought to him by the insertion of the Ad. in your paper usually nets him $100.00 to $150.00 a week. He always runs the Ad. on Sunday, and he has placed the matter in my hands for adjustment, and it would seem that he has just cause for grievance against your people for refusing to publish it. Therefore, we feel that you are liable to him for damages, and shall insist upon a reasonable compensation for them.

I believe, as a reasonable compensation would be, judging from the amount of business that he generally obtains from the Ad, which he runs, to be about $250.00. Therefore, I should appreciate a remittance from you in that sum by very truly yours, Hundred Animals Stolen Near Lodi, N. M. Supposedly for Sale to Mexican Insurgents.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
EL PASO (Tex.) Jan. 27.—Possessors of cowboys and residents from Lodi, N. M., are scouring the country between that town and the international line for a band of horse thieves. More than 100 horses have been stolen in the vicinity of Lodi during the last few nights, and it is believed they are being run into Mexico for sale to the insurgents.

A special from Fort Whipple, Ariz., says that an organizer for the revolutionary army has been captured in the vicinity of that city, and succeeded in getting them across the line into Sonora, in spite of the United States patrol.

STOCKTON GETS SHOWERS.
STOCKTON, Jan. 27.—30-40 rains following two days of sunshine visited Stockton and vicinity today. All of the streams are running far below the low water mark, and the recent storm which inundating some river bottom lands, did no damage. Farmers have been delayed in planting in their activities, but report that no loss will be occasioned by the downpour of last week. The rainfall for the month to date exceeds all previous records since 1890, when it was 10.1 inches. This month 10.60 inches has fallen in Stockton, or 25 of an inch more than the total rainfall of the winter of 1909-1910.

PRESIDENT DETERMINED TREATY WITH CANADA SHALL BE CARRIED. Close Friend of Administration Declares That if President Congress Fails to Act, Special Session Will Be Called or Matter Will Be Submitted to Democratic Majority of Next Session.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The House of Representatives today began to look upon the pathway of the Canadian reciprocity agreement, which President Taft has declared to be a "settled" policy, with a vengeance on the products of their own States. Now let's see what they are going to do about it.

It was said that even should the House accept the terms of the reciprocity agreement, which President Taft has declared to be a "settled" policy, with a vengeance on the products of their own States. Now let's see what they are going to do about it.

These proposals were carried to the White House today by members who visited the President, ostensibly on other business, but instead of creating a pessimistic feeling among Mr. Taft, it is said, received them with smiles, which indicated that one defeat would not turn him from his purpose.

If his own party, before surrendering control of the House of Representatives, fails to use its opportunity of putting in this reciprocity agreement, the President it is believed, will not hesitate to submit his programme to the Democrats, perhaps even in an extra session of Congress. One man in the administration, however, who has been the administration mouthpiece on more than one occasion, came from the White House today with the declaration that the proposed Canadian arrangement would not die an easy death while Mr. Taft was in the White House.

MR. TAFT IN EARNEST.
"The President was never more in earnest in his life," said he. "He intends to 'stay with it' through this session and to carry it to the next, if necessary. He will not hesitate to call an extra session if he thinks such a course necessary."

Mr. Taft believes the mutual concessions arranged by the United States and Canada, especially the large number of articles of food stuffs which would be put on the free list, propose a great humanitarian movement that would reduce the cost of living. He believes that if the promised reductions are not at once apparent, the very great loss of wages workers, that there would be an overwhelming demand throughout the country for the adoption of his programme.

DEMOCRATS LIKE IT.
The commercial relations of the United States and Canada, according to the view held by the President, should be placed above partisan considerations and there is the best reason for it. The President has stood upon his belief and held it until some action is taken by Congress. The overturning of the Republican majority in the House and the great change to be made in the complexion of the Senate after March 4 is thought by some to supply Mr. Taft with more than enough reason for his attitude.

When his message was read in the House yesterday it was received with acclamation by the Democrats. The attitude of the Democratic leaders proves a true index of the position which minority members of the Ways and Means Committee will take on a vote to ratify the trade agreement into force. It is a resolution can be brought about of committee. Seven Democrats are believed to be in sympathy with the agreement and it is certain that Republicans will vote to report it. This makes a clean majority of the committee.

The stranded vessel, were the freighters Mohagan, New York for Providence, and the H. M. Whitney, Metropolis, were plying between here and Boston. Both grounded in the vicinity of Throgs Neck. Neither was believed to be seriously imperiled, but the belief was seriously justified in the case of the Mohagan, which was floated unharmed before the forenoon was far advanced.

There were no reports of accidents from down the bay, but for hours several ship loads of passengers were obliged to wait for the fog to lift and permit the liners to proceed to their piers.

The big turbine Mauretania, from Liverpool, which anchored off Manhattan, was held up by a fog last night, was one of the detained craft, while the Prince Friedrich Wilhelm, from Bremen, which yesterday afternoon arrived off the lightship, was another.

SEARCH FOR CONVICTS VAIN.
Three Drifting Desperados Who Break From Sing Sing Prison Elude Authorities So Far.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
OSWINGTON (N. Y.) Jan. 27.—All night search for the three convicts who escaped from Sing Sing prison last night and were believed to have crossed the Hudson river on the ice, failed to reveal a trace of the fugitives.

The escape of the trio, one of whom is a life convict, was a sensational affair. It was effected after a rehearsal of the prison officers, when Ralph Taylor, Charles McGuinn and William Rush, instruments in hand, stole into the courtyard passageway, beat down the guards with bludgeons on the head with cornets and flutes, and slipped through an open space in the iron palings by the river side. They were fired at by the guards, but it is not believed any of the bullets took effect, and eight of the fugitives was soon lost in the foggy surface of the ice-covered river.

Last Call "Iran Co's" Compulsory Oriental Rug Auction

STORE CLOSED AFTER TODAY

The greatest genuine Oriental Rug auction in the history of Los Angeles closes today. The purpose of the auction—to raise $15,000 to clear off the indebtedness of the firm so the partnership can be legally dissolved—has been accomplished. We have sold a great many rugs—and the values have been absolutely without precedent. We extend the opportunity yet today. Take advantage of it.

WRIGHT TALKS ON NIETZSCHE.

HIGH-BROW COLONY STRUCK BY PHILOSOPHICAL BOMB.

Vigorous Talk on Friedrich Nietzsche by William Huntington Wright—Culture Fused Out in Strong Doses—Suicidal Thought.

A loaded bomb went off under the Arroyo Dinner Club at its last meeting. The exact nature of the explosion was in the form of a lecture on Nietzsche delivered before that organization by William Huntington Wright. And now, though the wreckage has been cleared away, the club still has on its mind and conscience the booming pessimism and the scandalous heresies of that Bavarian nihilist of thought. Even for the members of this club, capable as they are of the most difficult intellectual mountain climbing, the paper of Mr. Wright's was decidedly exasperating, and the suffragette present found food for thought which was far from predigested.

Mr. Wright offered no apologies for Nietzsche. He dished the philosophical teachings out unseasoned, and he made no compromise in his denunciation of what he considered the meaning of Nietzsche's rhapsodies.

Beginning with Nietzsche's early Heleneism, Mr. Wright traced as fully as possible the course pursued by this philosopher in arriving at what are probably the most terrible philosophies ever hurled at humanity and the world. Mr. Wright regretted that the attitude of the public toward Nietzsche was one of appalling ignorance, and that until 1890 he was but a name in America. Christianity and the woman culture clubs, he said, had employed every known prejudice and false promise and conclusion with which to attack a philosophy of meat and wine. They sought to discredit a position they could not combat, to deny the powerful force in a man's prime simply because in his old age his mind passed under a cloud.

Denouncing the foolish virgins of such an argument, Mr. Wright told of the general ideas underlying the Nietzschean crusade. That he was the most denunciatory and terrible critic of Christianity has ever been stated as a produced, and that his life work was devoted to doing away with the Christian virtues—humility, piety, brotherly love and self-sacrifice—on the basis of Nietzsche's philosophy. From this destructive activity the path led to the philosophy of the Superman. Because Nietzsche saw in Christianity the degradation of all the virtues with which he would endow his Superman, he denounced it as the most dangerous enemy to human progress.

The quotations and the explanations which Mr. Wright made were enough to overcome the most well-made of feminine temperaments. The Arroyo Dinner Club swallowed hard and bore in silence. But when that part of the talk came where Mr. Wright declared that no body of equally intelligent or unattached women was going to create the harmony of the sexes, or to oppose the slightest fundamentalism of equal rights, a typical sign of shallow-mindedness and that in oriental countries where the men were not emancipated, there were neither suffragettes nor culture clubs. Ibsen societies nor political equality leagues.

Mr. Wright offered but one last-handed apology for the attitude of Nietzsche in regard to woman. He said, "Women have been absolutely inferior to men in all the things which are not masculine. This is precisely the case. Tell any woman that she is inferior to a man, and she will be a woman. Tell any man that he is inferior to a woman, and he will be a man. It is the force of a principle understood."

WOMEN'S WORK. WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY SYDNEY FORD.

There came near being a tragedy at the Friday Morning Club yesterday. The clock stopped.

Now this Friday Morning club is a most important timepiece. It automatically regulates the length of the programme, so to speak. It is so hung that its large face fairly menaces the speakers, and it is a well understood, though unwritten law that all programmes come to a close at precisely 12 o'clock. Yesterday was an exception.

The programme was a full one at best, with four speakers scheduled, of which was Bishop Conaty. The mere announcement of his address sufficed to draw a crowd that completely filled the auditorium—main floor and gallery. The programme was arranged by the Book Committee and consisted of reviews of the life and work of two famous women—Jane Addams and the late Mme. Modjeska.

The first part moved off on schedule time but soon after the third speaker was announced the clock stopped—at precisely 11:15. Bishop Conaty was to come next. Every one was waiting anxiously to hear him, but the speaker on the platform kept on talking so conscious that the clock had stopped, and evidently laboring under the hallucination that it was yet early—only a quarter past eleven.

Women began to stir restlessly, and finally one looked at her watch. It was ten minutes of twelve. Still the unconscious speaker continued, with occasional glances at the clock, while the bishop sat serenely in his chair calmly waiting his turn. Finally, doubtless through the waves of mental suggestion which by this time were filling the air with electricity, the speaker sat down—everybody applauded.

Then Bishop Conaty came forward and, in his masterly way, paid tribute to the work and worth of Mme. Modjeska—in language sweet and strong. He spoke of the matchless grace of her who triumphed in a foreign country and a foreign tongue in an art which she uplifted and ennobled, and who always played her part as one who had a message to deliver. Instruction, not amusement, was her ideal of the stage. The speaker sat down—everybody applauded.

Mme. Caroline Severance was a guest of the club and the president, Mrs. O. Clark, read a greeting from her in which she spoke of her personal friendship and warm attachment for Mme. Modjeska whom she first introduced to the club when she was its president, and it was through her suggestion that the famous actress became an honorary member of the club, after which she was a frequent visitor and an occasional speaker.

Miss Elizabeth Packard gave some very interesting personal reminiscences of her acquaintance with Jane Addams and her friends, one of whom, Ellen Starr, the art enthusiast of Hull House, is an old-time friend of Miss Packard.

Mrs. Nathan Weston, who is the founder of our own college settlement work out of which have grown the Housing Commission and the Juvenile Court, gave an entertaining and comprehensive review of Jane Addams' book, "Twenty Years at Hull House."

Finally, in reading the paper in the absence of Mrs. Weston, Mrs. C. L. Michod told some of her memories and impressions of Mme. Modjeska, and at the close of the programme a group of personal friends who had known the late gifted Polish woman, gathered about Bishop Conaty to speak of their memories of the artist and to see some rare photographs of her which had been loaned for the occasion.

These Girls Can Sew. There was, during a few days of last week, on exhibition at the Y.W.C.A. of some as neatly and fashionably made gowns as are displayed in the show windows of our exclusive shops on Broadway. Dainty evening gowns, finely finished tailored gowns, soft, juvenile party gowns, negligee robes, lingerie frocks with tiny dots of stitches and delicate hand-made embroidery and lace.

No, this is not a fashion article. I am going to point a moral to adorn this tale. Money couldn't buy one of those gowns. They were absolutely not for sale for they belong to the girls who made them, and these business girls and these young married women who, under the direction of the Y.W.C.A. department of the Y.W.C.A., are proud of this work of their hands. They believe, that of anything that has ever been accomplished in all their lives before. To be able to make their own gowns and shirt waists is, to the women of moderate circumstances, a practical power beyond any other accomplishment in the arts—for it is a fine art—this knowing how to fashion a frock in a workmanlike way.

At the annual meeting of the directors of a New York bank the other day it was necessary to elect a cashier on account of the continued illness of the man who had held that position. "Who'll we get?" asked the president.

Various men were suggested, but none seemed exactly fitted for the place. Finally one of the directors had a bright idea. "What's the matter with appointing that girl out there," he said, pointing to a young woman who had been a faithful employee of the bank for a period of five years.

"She's as good a banker as any man I saw," remarked another director. She got the nod and now Miss E. M. Boynton is the only woman bank cashier in greater New York. If not in the entire State.

FAMILIES BUY LARGE ACREAGE.

COMMUNITY WILL SETTLE NEAR SANTA BARBARA.

Danish American Colony Obtains Immense Tract in Santa Ynez Valley Upon Which Extensive Improvements Will Be Made by Middle West Citizens.

A tract of land 883 acres in extent, thirty-eight miles northwest of Santa Barbara, in the Santa Ynez Valley, was yesterday purchased from the Santa Barbara Land and Water Company, a corporation with offices in this city, by about one hundred families from the Middle West, who have organized themselves into a community known as the Danish American Colony.

The consideration reported to have been paid is $40 an acre, or a total of $35,000. It is understood that the terms were one-fourth cash and the balance in payments of one, two and three years.

In the deal, which is one of the largest in the recent history of acreage activity in this section, have been under way for several months, the colony having thoroughly studied the locality before buying.

It is the intention of the colonists to begin extensive improvements at once. Not only homes, but schools and churches will be built. The village of Charcas, near the boundary, three Ecuadorians were killed and eight wounded.

Meager accounts of the fighting were contained in a telegram received here today from the Peruvian frontier. According to the message there was a misunderstanding between the authorities of Ecuador and the Peruvian forces, which resulted in an assault upon Charcas by a body of Peruvian infantry.

FIGHT RUMORS CONFIRMED. ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT. LIMA (Peru) Jan. 27.—Rumors of another encounter between Peruvians and Ecuadorians on the frontier near Zarmas, Ecuador, were confirmed today. The Peruvian cruiser Almirante Grau sailed last night from Callao for Payta, on the northwest coast, carrying 200 infantry to reinforce the frontier.

Land Another. CLEVER WAY TO RAISE CASH.

Palen's Alleged Confederate Under Arrest.

He Impersonated a Lawyer in Plan to Defraud.

Scheme Outlined in Confession Say Detectives.

In the arrest yesterday of Benjamin Egery, a printer residing at No. 79 Ottawa street, Detectives Hawley, McKenzie, Jones and Boyd say they have the mysterious Robert C. Stitt, attorney-at-law, who aided and abetted Attorney John C. Palen in his alleged crooked check manipulations and brought face to face yesterday afternoon in the County Jail and both broken down and confessed, the detectives stated.

The system engineered by Palen and carried out by Egery is the cleverest the police say they have had to deal with for some time. After the commission of one fraud the men would cover their tracks by pulling off another, and in order to mislead the police by intricate manipulations.

Early in the game Palen decided upon a mythical person to insure the success of his schemes. Egery was selected and he was christened Robert C. Stitt, and his profession, attorney-at-law. Whenever a deed was manipulated or a check negotiated the mythical Stitt participated professionally.

The first coup pulled off by Egery and Palen appears to have been November 27, 1909, when Palen deposited a check for $450 to his account in the Home Savings Bank, which at time was $50. The check was supposed to have been drawn by James S. Arata for legal services rendered in a civil action, and was on the International Savings and Exchange Bank. It went through the clearing-house, and was returned marked "no account." Meanwhile, Egery and Palen had "turned" the second trick. A check for $450.35 was made out in favor of Attorney Egery, B. Stue and indorsed by Palen. On the check was written: "In full satisfaction of judgment rendered in case of Moore versus Gardner."

CASHED THE CHECK.

Egery, posing as Stitt, collected the full value of the check from the Home Savings Bank. Several days prior to this Palen, had introduced Egery as Stitt, to the cashier, so that when Stitt called it was cashed at once.

When Arata's check was returned to the Home officials, they informed Palen, and asked him to make good the amount of the check drawn by Stitt. Palen stated he was unable to do so, and in order to mislead the bank he applied at the District Attorney's office for a complaint against Robert B. Stitt, attorney at law, charging that he had forged his name to the check. The complaint was issued but although Palen gave them a minute description of "Stitt," they were unable to locate him.

Palen explained that he had met Stitt first at a trial in one of the township justice courts. Stitt, later called at his home, No. 244 South Figueroa street, with Arata, and told him that he needed his help in a litigation concerning an estate. Palen was taken in as an associate attorney, and was then he claimed that Stitt became familiar with his signature sufficiently to forge the check.

The police believed this statement at the time, and for several weeks labored to unearth Arata and Stitt. They were unable to land either and dropped the hunt.

Palen's attempt to collect $1800 on a forged deed for land valued at $12,000 brought the old matter to mind, and the detective set to work again on the alleged forgery case.

The police have not decided what charge they will file against Egery, until a complete investigation has been made of his dealings with Palen. It is believed that he participated in Palen's forgery of the deed to property owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Pardue, at No. 1351 Bond street. In this transaction Palen used two personages, Charles E. Duxey, notary, and William E. Austin, client. It is believed that Egery acted as notary in the deal.

Colorado Legislature to Consider Bill Placing Physical Restrictions Upon Marriage.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) DENVER, Jan. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) With the united support of the women legislators, a vigorous attempt is to be made at this session to ## condition precedent to entering the marriage state.

The bill is the most drastic that has ever been presented to a Legislature in any State. It denies the right of marriage to persons afflicted with tuberculosis or other constitutional communicable diseases. Confirmed drunkards and those who are users of drugs need not apply for a marriage license. Those who are engaged in infamous callings are prohibited from joining in marriage.

Persons who go to another State to avoid the restrictions contained in this measure will find on their return that the contract entered into in the foreign State is void in Colorado. License clerks who issue marriage certificates contrary to the form of this measure are rendered liable for heavy fine.

The bill also prohibits the union of white persons with Mongolians.

BAKERSFIELD MEN TAKE UP FREIGHT RATES.

Merchants Association of That City Has Taken Steps Toward the Filing of a Petition in Intervention Asking That the Previous Ruling Be Sustained.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Bakersfield men were vigorous on the side of Los Angeles in the contention between that city and San Francisco over the question of freight rates in the San Joaquin Valley. The Merchants' Association of this city has taken steps toward the filing of a petition in intervention asking that the previous ruling of the State Railroad Commission fixing rates from Los Angeles and San Francisco to valley points be sustained.

E. J. Emmons has been employed to represent the Merchants' Association in the drafting and presentation of the petition and with Homer Katze, secretary of the association, he will go to Los Angeles Sunday to confer with a committee from jobbers' associations of that city.

Katze and Emmons will then go to San Francisco, where they will be joined by N. R. Solomon, also of the committee in charge of the matter. Bakersfield merchants estimate that the rate as fixed by the recent ruling of the commission means a saving of at least 7 cents per ton on all the many thousands of tons of heavy freight shipped into this city, and while they insist that the rates should be made much lower, still they mean to make sure if possible of the reduction now promised.

AFTER HYDRAULICERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 27.—Acting on evidence presented to him by the California Debris Commission, United States Attorney Devlin went before the Federal grand jury today to seek the indictment of a number of mining companies accused of hydraulic mining at the headwaters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

President John E. Plater, of a bank, told in Judge Wilbur's court, how he had been accused of placing in his hands by Della McGregory. He courted the fullest investigation. A. Sanford, the child-wife of the late A. Sanford, a musician, said possession of her baby after an alleged scene in Judge Conroy's court, yesterday.

Home of Dr. W. R. Price, in Beach, was sold at Sheriff's sale yesterday, for $50 to J. M. Sewell.

Island yesterday threatened to be an injunction suit, against the public works to prevent the piling of harbor dredgings on the shore.

A Mayor next week will appoint members of the Board of Water Commissioners, the terms of John R. Conroy and John H. Norton expiring next time.

At the City Hall.

EACH RESORT IS AT STAKE.

MINAL ISLAND FIGHTING FOR ITS EXISTENCE.

Property Owners Threaten to File Injunction Suit Against Board of Public Works for Granting Permits to Dump Harbor Dredgings on Seashore.

$200,000 worth of seashore real property at Terminal Island is involved in a contention between property owners there and the Board of Public Works. Frank J. Thomas, one of the protesting property owners, left yesterday afternoon after threatening to bring an injunction suit if a permit to dispose of dredgings from the inner harbor is not refused.

Chaffee stood firm in a refusal to take the permit, and a heated argument took place. Thomas said the matter was one of public health, and that he was not concerned with the private property of the board. He said that if the board refused to grant the permit, he would be forced to file an injunction suit.

The future of Terminal Island is a question. If the city deposits dredging wastes on the beach in the cottages it will gradually build up land which will be valuable for its purposes. It may at the same time build up the beach for sewage purposes. Members of the Board of Public Works expressed the opinion that business is so fast encroaching upon this island that it is only a question of time until the cottages will disappear. In this event they consider that the city is the owner of the beach, and that the city is the owner of the beach.

At the same time there are not a few of the city in damage to the present time. They have been trying to find some other place for the disposal of the dredgings, but so far have been unsuccessful. Both the Salt Lake and the Bannock have been asked, but neither of them is in a position to take them. Commissioners have said that if it were merely a question of building a bulkhead somewhere, he would be in favor of that, even if it involved some additional expense.

It is evident that the disposal of harbor dredgings is soon to become a serious question. Large contracts are being let for the future, and while there are numerous contemplated fills it is evident that they will not accommodate all of the material that will be moved in deepening of the channel.

action was taken by the board to call upon Harbor Engineer Vincent to make further efforts to secure dumping grounds for the Comer act. In the meantime the members waiting notice of an injunction. Among those whose property is involved are Sumner P. Hunt, C. A. Summerville, Waldo M. York, C. B. Booth, D. K. Edwards.

TWO OPENINGS.
Mayor has two appointments to her next week. The terms of John H. Norton and John R. Conroy are expiring at that time. In fact he has already ordered them, but is not giving out information until the day of a new office arrives.

Anyone is looking for a short term lease about 1000 sq. ft. there is an opening on the Fire Commission. The adoption of the new charter March 6 will reduce the size of commission from five to three. In mentioning Commissioner Owen's has been vacant by his resignation and the Mayor thinks he may be the assistance of the fifth man in filling the fire alarm scandal that recently broke at the City Hall.

March 4 another Fire Commission. Owen has to go. It appears upon completion of this fact that Commissioner Owen did not give up much he resigned, as he is supposed to have been scheduled for retirement at that time.

BROADWAY PROTEST.
OBJECTION TO NEW ROUTING.
Petition signed by nearly all of the merchants between Second and Third streets was filed with the Mayor's City Council yesterday, asking steps be taken to secure a change in the routes of certain street cars. The merchants ask that the cars be turned back at Fourth street, and that the Jefferson street cars, which run to Fourth and Broadway, be turned back at First street, instead of at the intersection of Broadway and Third. These two changes they say, will be of great benefit to their business.

BANKER'S METHOD WOMAN DOUBTS.

DEFENDANT GIVES IN DETAIL EACH TRANSACTION.

Invalid Plaintiff, Who Has Long Been Under Medical Treatment, Insists That Her Man of Business Refuses Proper Accounting—His States Investigation Is Court.

Charges preferred against John E. Plater, vice-president of a local bank, made by Della McGregory, and involving his alleged refusal to account for certain funds, were aired in Judge Wilbur's court, yesterday.

A number of witnesses were examined, and at the conclusion of their testimony court postponed further hearing of the case until Tuesday morning, when the plaintiff will be examined at length. It is believed that the entire session will be required to get at her story. Mrs. McGregory is an invalid, and during the hearing yesterday, she became so nervous that it was necessary for her to leave the courtroom.

Plater testified that during the time covered by the complaint he had received various amounts of money from Mrs. McGregory, aggregating perhaps $20,000, but that it was deposited to her credit in a Los Angeles savings bank; that a full settlement of all their dealings had been made at the close of their business connection.

He denied that he had ever refused to give her an accounting of their transactions. He stated he did not know until the beginning of the action that she was not satisfied with his method of conducting her business. The witness went into a detailed account of their financial relations, referring to each deposit that had been made as she requested. He said he counted the greatest scrutiny on the part of the court.

The plaintiff is the owner of a patent process for making butter. In her complaint she declares on the recommendation of L. L. Bradbury, since dead, she has employed Plater as her confidential agent. She alleged that in that capacity he had handled thousands of dollars belonging to her. One specific payment she says she made to Plater was on June 1, 1905, when she declared she paid him $10,000 in cash. The plaintiff further said that she had made a written demand upon Plater for an accounting of the funds that had come into his possession, and that he had refused. She also asked him for her bankbooks, vouchers, etc., and she had been unable to get them, she asserted.

G. B. Sperry, who has had personal charge of Mrs. McGregory for eight years, as her physical condition makes it necessary for some one to be with her continually, testified in regard to a number of visits made by Plater to the home of Mrs. McGregory when she lived at 1213 South Olive street, and related an alleged conversation between the parties that took place in March, 1905. The gist of it was that the woman had asked Plater what he had done with her money, and he (Plater) had responded that he had used it.

AFTER HIM.
MORE TROUBLE FOR DR. PRICE.
The fine home of Dr. W. R. Price at Long Beach, and a lot in the same city were disposed of yesterday at Sheriff's sale, to J. M. Sewell. The sale was upon an execution issued from Judge Hervey's court, for $783.13. There were no other bidders. The home at Ninth and Linden streets is subject to a mortgage of $7000 in favor of Hannah Cushing, one of the friends of Dr. Price, in his recent litigation. The sale of the home was a merely nominal one, $50 for the home and $100 for the other lot further down Linden street.

Coinciding with the sale of the Price home a petition was filed in the Superior Court, praying that the name of the "Building Association of the Society of the New and Practical Psychology," be changed to the California Business Block Company. The allegation in support of the petition was that the present name is closely associated with that of Dr. Price, who is no longer a member of the corporation.

The present directors of the business block involved in the petition are: J. M. Sewell, F. A. Knight, J. V. Hannon, T. G. Harriman, Ralph C. May, E. Sewell, Mrs. L. A. Cook, H. C. Marsh, J. L. Johnson, F. E. Shaw and Dr. Mary J. Heim. They were placed in power at a recent meeting of the stockholders, when the old board, alleged to be in the interest of Dr. Price, was ousted.

Of the 2000 shares of the capital stock of the building company, the opponents of Price now own 1450 shares, and are said to control the balance. In the recent hearing before Judge Hervey, involving the validity of the transfer of a majority of the stock to Mrs. Price and J. Clinton Johnson, the court held that the transfer had been made, and avoided the payment of the judgment secured by Sewell against Price and R. R. Christie. The shares were bought in the interests of Sewell for $5000; in other words, he was given a credit for that amount on the Sewell execution.

BARNARD ESTATE.
AMONG NINE HEIRS.
The final account of A. G. Wells, executor of the estate of John Fisk Barnard, was approved by Judge Rives, yesterday, and a distribution ordered by the court.

The amount chargeable to the executor during his term of service was $173,273.13; credits, $9067.73, including $3205 paid out for attorney fees. The amount of cash hand was $15,100.00, and the total amount of assets, $164,205.40. The executor waived all claims for remuneration for his work.

Under the provisions of the will the property is to be divided among nine heirs: Julia B. Barnard, who also gets the household furniture; Annie B. Wells, Helena Barnard, John A. Barnard, Gertrude B. Wells, Robert Barnard, Ethel M. Bushnell, W. K. Barnard, and Archer F. Barnard.

THEIR ANSWER BITTER STINGS.

Ocean Park Men Lashed by Doge of Venice.

What Resort Lacks Blamed Upon Trustees.

Counter - Charges Defense Heaps Up.

In Judge Wood's court yesterday, in the libel suit brought by George M. Jones against Abbot Kinney and others, the defendants were allowed to file an amended answer to the complaint, and the matter went over until Tuesday, when the trial will be resumed.

In the answer it is alleged that each statement set forth in the newspaper article is true; that the plaintiff and Dana Burks, members of the Board of Trustees of Ocean Park, had arranged with A. R. Frazer to conduct their joint interests so as to promote their, and destroy those of the defendant, at Venice; that Frazer was called "Tear," not in his individual capacity, but as representing the unlawful combination.

It is also charged that the plaintiff with others sought to destroy the completion of the shore bath-houses, by ordering the vacation of a certain street on which the bath-house of the defendant is located; that they ordered the tearing up of railroad tracks that lead to the wharf of the Abbot Kinney Company, involving H. C. Robinson, of which the plaintiff is a member, sought to destroy the Villa City property of the same company.

Another charge is that the Board of Trustees located the City Hall at "Tokio," some distance from the center of the city, to promote the interests of the board. It is asserted that in 1905 down to date the combination allowed the sewage from Santa Monica to be discharged at Venice.

It is also charged that the plaintiff and the Board of Trustees spent $1500 in the erection of a fire engine house, when the real cost should have been about $700.

In October, 1905, it is alleged plaintiff and others wastefully expended the public funds in the purchase of two lots intended for the erection of an incinerator, and that Burks received a commission for the transaction.

It is charged that the combination refused to take charge of the streets; to protect the public park, etc., spending the public funds in advertising for work that was never intended to be done, merely for the purpose of supporting a journal which was devoted to the interests of the plaintiff and his combination.

The defendants say that up to the time of the publication of the "allegory" complained of, that plaintiff and his friends in 1905 and 1906, played poker for money to the "discredit of the good name of Ocean Park."

It is also charged that the Board of Trustees refused to pay to the plaintiff a guarantee for the construction of a bulkhead in Venice, and at the same time paid to Burks and A. E. Robinson, members of the combination, that portion of the costs which had been guaranteed by them. The wrongful payment of $8000 for a fire alarm system is also charged.

Finally it is alleged that the plaintiff and his associates, working through the Board of Trustees, refused to call an election within a reasonable time for the reincorporation of the city of Ocean Park, appointing the date for such election ten months after the rejection of a legal petition therefor, and refused to name an earlier date until they were compelled to do so.

As a parting "shot" the defendant states that during the time referred to in the "allegory" the plaintiff and his combination so managed and controlled the public business in Ocean Park as to promote their individual interests and at the same time injured the defendants.

PASSES BAD CHECK.
C. J. Halpern, was arraigned before Justice Forbes yesterday, accused of passing a fictitious check upon George Cigar Stores Company. Rath says, he cashed the check for $15 on the First National Bank of Los Angeles, January 18. Halpern, in default of $1000 bail was committed into the custody of the Sheriff.

BRUISED BY FALL.
F. Finley, 55 years of age, residing at No. 516 North Hill street, sustained several bruises about the head and shoulders yesterday, when he fell one story at the Hall of Records. His injuries were treated by Police Surgeon Carter.

EVIDENCE LACKING.
A complaint filed against Jesus Quintana in the Police Court, charging him with mistreatment of Joseph Chavez, was dismissed yesterday. The girl said she loved the young man and refused to appear against him. He was taken into custody at the instance of his wife.

INJURED BY FALL.
Elias Regendiz, 24 years of age, residing at No. 643 North Main street, fell from a scaffolding at the Administration Building, Exposition Park. He sustained fractures of the left leg and arm, and numerous bruises about the head and body.

Thousand Arrivals Daily Is the Estimate.

Class Travel Is Taring Train Equipment.

Westward movement of tourists from California is growing rapidly. For the first time in its history, the California Limited train on Feb. 1, arriving in Los Angeles, was run in three sections. The first section, consisting of the first three through trains on the route from Chicago brought in as many as 1000 tourists, making a total for only the three transcontinental roads of 2000 tourists.

It is estimated that the number of tourists entering here daily, said N. J. E. district passenger agent of the Southern Pacific, "but the movement is unusually large, probably in connection with the tourist travel to Los Angeles. The tourist travel to Los Angeles is making equipment on all of the lines entering here. By way of the Santa Fe met the increased demand last year by running the limited train in two sections a week. This year it was run in two sections four a week during the tourist rush. The train in three sections, and the limited train today, will continue the rush of high-class tourists at least through the month of March.

Transcontinental Passenger agent takes the expected action in Chicago, Tuesday, the limited train will become a freight train. When the early summer begins to work the tourist travel will develop to its proportions.

Repairing Washout.
The expected that the damage to the Salt Lake railroad tracks in California, will be repaired in time to permit the passage of through trains from Los Angeles and Salt Lake City. Meanwhile, the tracks are being repaired by other means, and the work is being done as fast as possible.

age and ability to stand up for whatever it considered fair and right. In considering the woman suffrage question, there are undoubtedly two sides to it, and it is right to look at both, but it seems to me that the side of the evidence is on the side of the women who wish the vote. It never has appeared to me just to disfranchise one half of the citizens of the United States because of sex, and apparently for no other reason. I do not approve of the methods of our English sisters, or of anything that is unwomanly or unfriendly. Better forego the right of suffrage if it is to cause loss of womanliness and refinement. But I cannot see any reason why it should be so. There are women who are coarse, and would be so under any circumstances; but the really refined and intelligent would also be so under any circumstances.

As to the argument that woman is inferior physically and therefore would be unable to enforce the laws if she helped make them, if that is the standard recognized, it would be logical to allow the woman who could whip her husband to vote, instead of the man;
that would be running the government by brute force, however, instead of brains and principle.

One of the arguments used is that women will avoid jury duty. Do not the business men do that now, quite as often? I know of at least one who refuses to hear it is no longer required of him.

It is a shame that women should accuse their own sex of being more unprincipled than men, or more likely to sell their votes. How about the big scandal at present in Illinois because men have been bribed to vote a certain way. Are the women who are opposing the suffrage of their sex afraid of being tempted themselves, or do they only fear for the rest of their sisters?

Certainly a woman's first duty is to her home and family, if she has one. It should also be her pleasure.

I cannot see why voting or preparing herself to vote intelligently should interfere with that any more than it does with a man's business, or more than it does to pay her taxes, now that she has nothing to say of where or how they shall be used. If she has ability to acquire and care for her property, I see no reason why it requires any more intelligence to have something to say in regard to the disposal of the money she pays to the government, sometimes by the hardest of self-denial, than to acquire that property in the first place.

It is the old cry of our long ago: "Taxation without representation, and government without the consent of the governed."

ORDERING SUPPLIES BY TELEPHONE

THE retail merchant's telephone serves not only as a salesman, but also as a purchasing agent.

When a merchant finds that he is going to run out of a line of goods, he calls up the wholesaler or factory and not only orders a new stock, but comes to an agreement on the price and the time of delivery.

The unexpected needs of his customers can be met with the least possible delay.

If the merchant cannot find what he wants in town the Long Distance Service of the Bell System brings him into immediate communication with other cities and other markets.

Umbrellas—A Sale

The values are too good to miss, particularly when you consider the propensity of umbrellas for getting lost at the most inopportune times

UMBRELLAS AT $3.50—VALUES $4 TO $6—Come in black and colored silks, with handles in plain and fancy effects.

UMBRELLAS AT $5.00—VALUES $7.50 TO $9.00—Are of all-silk taffetas, with the handsomest sorts of gold and silver and mother-of-pearl handles you ever saw.

Unnecessary to look a bit farther than Coulter's for the "snappiest" patterns in men's shirts to be found hereabouts:

We make that statement advisedly, too, for we buy the cream of the best makers' output and carry such diversity of pattern and style that no man, however, fastidious, can fail to find the sorts of shirts he likes here. Pleated and plain; stiff and French cuffs; colors fast, of course—you expect all that.

trifle of the chopped meat. Place this on top of the loaf and then cover with the other half of the meat. Press down so that it will cut nicely, season and sprinkle with a little chopped suet. Bake until a rich brown, basting as you would roast beef and serve, garnished with parsley. This is an inexpensive, slightly and nutritious meat.

The Lingerie Blouse.
For making at home, the lingerie blouse of cotton crepe has several advantages. It takes less trimming than do the thinner and more transparent materials. It is easy to fit, especially if made with the popular kimono sleeve. A little lace and a few embroidery stitches of a bit of Irish crochet will sufficiently embellish a waist of crepe.

I saw such a blouse made by a girl at home which had a coarse lace yoke extending to a little above the bust line, where it was met by a design of hand work in long stitches caught into the lace and so joining it to the goods as to seem like a real pattern waist. Nothing could have been more simple, yet it was very pretty.

New Draperies.
This is the time of year when the heart of the housewife begins to stir toward the new and fresh for the home. The curtains, the hangings which have been up all winter begin to look much as do our winter coats, and there is a wish to replace them.

Guessing this, the merchants have commenced to display the most enticing of drapery goods, all bedowered with beauty suggestive of the spring. If it is a little early for the garden full bloom, we can have fresh blossoms upon our walls and around the windows and doors. The cretonnes were never so popular and never so pretty, while there are new fabrics not heretofore seen.

"Radically Cheap"
That is what I heard a lady exclaim as she looked into the window of one of the large millinery stores on Broadway; and I re-echoed her words in my own mind. The house was simply clear of all winter goods to make room for spring, and really it was just about like not charging anything at all, to ask the prices marked upon some of those things.

Who could resist?—for instance—a soft, fine beaver in the great "peak" which can be made into any style—priced at $12.50, early in the season, to my knowledge. There were several such bargains—and for $1, there were really handsome trimmed hats. If one could only buy one's summer hats at the close of the winter season, and summer hats at the end of the winter months—how much one could save! And really, such bargains as those could be put away for another season. The cedar bag would preserve them safely.

Fashion's Whispers.
On afternoon and evening gowns the tunic is of chiffon cloth, metal gauze or lace, ending above the knees and trimmed with roses or fur or embroidery.

Hair ornaments are very wide, giving the effect of little turbans. Tansy, brocade, white suede, black satin and metallic tissues, studded with beads, are used.

Bugles and jet, which have always been associated in our minds with elegantly-gowned old ladies, are now seen ornamenting flippant evening frocks and youthful coiffures.

On the mid-evening gowns, as well as on those we have been wearing, the tunic plays an important part. It is seen on evening gowns, as well as on those for the street.

The acuteness of the immigration question is awakening many indifferent persons to the importance of home missions. For next to the public schools, there is no agency so important as the church in the assimilation of our alien population.

Except the immigration question be accepted as a mission by the church, it will be a menace to the country. Canada's men have heard the call to save the frontier for God and for the Canadian type. They have conformed to the great North American movement, in a manner that is exciting the comment of the whole continent.

The immigration emergency has brought the great agencies of home missions, especially missions in the great Northwest, in a manner that is exciting the comment of the whole continent. Nobody doubts that Canada will be preserved Christian, because the Church has seen a vision and is going to possess the land.

Every immigrant is a man or woman or child before he is a problem. So he must be regarded as one possessed of all the old instincts and needs rather than as an abstract question in sociology or citizenship.

To be a good neighbor to the night alien is one expression of patriotism and of religion. Missions, like charity, should begin at home, and still like charity, they cease to deserve their name if they end there.

NEWS AND NOTES.
The 1,195,037 immigrants who came to America in the fiscal year 1910 brought with them more than $28,000,000.

When the Congressional Brotherhood met in Chicago for its annual convention in October, it was resolved by the delegates present that the brotherhood should take up in behalf of the Congregational denomination the same kind of work for industrial and other social reforms that Mr. Stelzle has done under the Board of Home Missions in behalf of the Presbyterian denomination.

Rev. Henry A. Atkinson, pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Atlanta, Ga., has been chosen to fill this position. The funds will be loaned at a low rate of interest to organizations which will undertake the management of the enterprise.

Early in 1911 there will be opened on Long Island, thirteen miles from the central Pennsylvania Railway station in New York City, the model suburban village planned by the Sage foundation. The tract, which is thirteen minutes' ride from the New York City terminal, embraces 142 acres. The houses, varied in design but harmonizing in effect, are to be one and two stories, with spacious porches and an abundance of trees.

These dwellings will be sold on payments of $25 upward per month. The development of Young Men's Christian Association work in foreign lands has been effectively carried on by John R. Mott during this past year. At the conference with his financial backers, which he holds annually at Washington, Mr. Mott was this year able to announce a gift of $400,000 from John D. Rockefeller, for erection of Christian association structures abroad, offered on condition that a similar amount should be raised from other sources for the same purpose. And the leader of this form of Christian work was emphasized when he immediately stated that the condition had already been more than met by subscriptions aggregating $550,000. Among the givers of this latter sum were John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, who promised a building in China and another in the Levant; Cleveland Dodge, who will erect a building in the Levant; James Stokes and an unnamed friend, who are willing to invest $100,000 for Moscow; John W. Rose, who gives a building at Canton; John Penman, who provides an association plant in Tokyo. Mr. Rose and Mr. Penman are Canadians. These announcements were made at a session of the conference at the White House, where the 200 guests present were addressed by President Taft.

SEVEN SENTENCE SERMONS.
Patience endurance is Godlike.—[Longfellow.]
I ask, O Lord, that from my life may flow
Such gladness music, soothing, sweet and clear
From a fine strung harp, to reach the weary ear
Of struggling man.
To bid them pause awhile and listen;
With spirit calmer, stronger than before,
Take up their work again.—[Anon.]
Duty makes us do things well, but love makes us do them beautifully.—[Phillips Brooks.]
When you can't have your own way don't pout as a martyr at the stake, earning a halo.—[Maitland D. Babcock.]
Life is an arrow, therefore you must know
What mark to aim at, how to use the bow
Then draw it to the head and let it go.—[Van Dyke.]
O Lord, Thou knowest how busy I must be this day! If I forget Thee, do not Thou forget me.—[Sir Jacob Ashley.]
I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me.—[Paul.]

SUNDAY BASEBALL MADE AN ISSUE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.)

TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 27.—

Sunday baseball in Kansas was given a new lease of life when the Legislature went on record

by a vote of 63 to 58 against any further means to prohibit the game.

More than half of the members took part in the debate in which the Bible was quoted, sermons delivered and arguments against the bill made by those who favored the sport.

George Cones of Meade county who introduced the bill, read the Ten Commandments to show why it should become a law.

Welch jumped in between them and held up Burns's hand.

BURNS BEATS STANLEY.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Frankie Burns

of Jersey City, outboxed and outpointed Digby Stanley, English ban-namweight champion, in a ten-round bout before the National Sporting Club of America tonight.

The British champion had the advantage of height and reach, and in the clinches used the kidney blow with effect. He was inclined to wrestle and was eventually worn down by Burns's body blows and in-fighting.

Burns had the better at the start and began his body blow tactics in the first round, while Stanley swung rather wildly for the head. In the second round, Stanley sent a left and right to the head and a left to the body and had a shade the better of the round.

Burns's terrific in-fighting in the third gave him all the better of the round. The Britisher showed to bet-

ST. IVES WINS FIELD HONORS.

Takes Championship Event in Classy Style.

Good Melrose Mac Finishes as Runner Up.

Members Highly Pleased with Success of Meet.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 27.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Six thoroughbred spectators and pointers, the cream of the Pacific Coast field trials entrants, competed today in the most successful championship stakes held in recent years, and the honors after a close struggle went to St. Ives, owned by H. S. Russ. Melrose Mac was runner up, giving St. Ives a hard tussle for the handsome silver trophy, the most highly prized of all trophies offered at the meet.

The weather was magnificent throughout the final trials and a good number of birds were pointed, giving the judges admirable opportunity to decide on the various qualities of each dog.

St. Ives's work was brilliant. She established eight perfect points and was of wide range, good style and pace for the two-hour hunt and finished strongly. Melrose Mac was practically the equal of the Russ setter on points

but was not so extensive in her range or nearly so fast. All in all, Constance's setter ran a very excellent race and was well rated by the judges.

Terry's Shastu was also proved her admirable qualities as a thoroughbred bird dog. She was good at finding the birds but gave out in the last few minutes of the heat, being taken up quite tired.

standard set in other years and was
